 Any replacement sheet containing such amendments must be referred to under item 1 and annexed to this report.

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION REPORT

International application No.
PCT/US04/00607

V. Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. STATEMENT

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-32	YES
	Claims NONE	NO
Inventive Step (IS)	Claims 1-32	YES
	Claims NONE	NO
Industrial Applicability (IA)	Claims 1-32	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-32 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest contacting a fluid stream with a surfactant, withdrawing a portion of the fluid stream, passing a portion of the withdrawn sample through a sampling loop, followed by analyzing the foam sample for the relative proportions of hydrocarbon gas, hydrocarbon liquid and water content.

The closest prior art is considered to be Griston et al and Mullen. Neither teaches analyzing the sampled fluid (after it has been contacted with a surfactant) for the amount of hydrocarbon and water.

Claims 1-32 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
